Announces Results of Rendezvous 2005

DC Expo, Chicago, IL and Massapequa, NY, May 18, 2005 – Robocom Systems International announced the successful completion of Rendezvous 2005, its worldwide users' conference. Robert Silverman, President of Gross & Associates, delivered the keynote address on Supply Chain Trends Critical to Warehousing Operations at the May 11-13th conference in New York. .

The three-day event included demonstrations of enhanced functionality in RIMS, Robocom's Warehouse Management System. Attendees also participated in hands on demonstrations of RIMS' RFID solution, which allows users to meet the requirements of leading retailers and the Department of Defense.

The conference highlighted RIMS as it interfaces with partner solutions for load optimization, transportation management, document management, process-specific, on-screen user cue cards and RFID hardware.

"We are pleased with the very positive response from Rendezvous 2005 and look forward to working with our partners and customers as we build competitive advantage with RIMS and RFID," says Judy Frenkel, Robocom's Chief Operating Officer.
